Notes and feedback

- Make a sticky nav bar at the top of the page
- Have the different sections link to different pages instead of having one long scrolling page
- For sake of clear hierarchy, try to limit to:
    - 1. Heading
      2. Subtext
    - Right now there's a lot of different texts of different sizes (ex: you can remove the 01, 02 small headings at top)
- If you want to experiment with cut outs of photos like we talked about, I think it could add some visual interest. But no worries if it's too complicated
- I like the drop-down interactivity, maybe doing some other hover states to make site more engaging (could be on photos, on headings, whatever you think works best!)
